

International Human Rights Day event

10th December 2007

The Pierian Centre, Bristol

12.00 - 17.30

12.30-14.00 - Public lecture

'We Refugees'

Dr Shahram Khosravi

Lecturer, Department of Social Anthropology,
Stockholm University, Sweden.

A public lecture about borders, exile, politics and human rights, under a title borrowed from Hanna Arendt.

14.30-16.00 - Panel discussion

The human rights of migrants in Bristol and the South West

With CARA (Council for the Assistance of Refugee Academics), Refugee Action, IOM (International Organisation for Migration), EJN (Exiled Journalist Network, and the University of the West of England.

How can the human rights of migrants be better respected in Bristol and the South West?

Is a human rights approach the appropriate tool for improving matters?

16.00 - 17.30 - Reception

Launch of the Global Ethics and Human Rights network
Music by Alphonse Daudet Touna.

Registration Fee:

The registration fee is inclusive of buffet lunch served from 12.00 – 12.30

£5 lecture

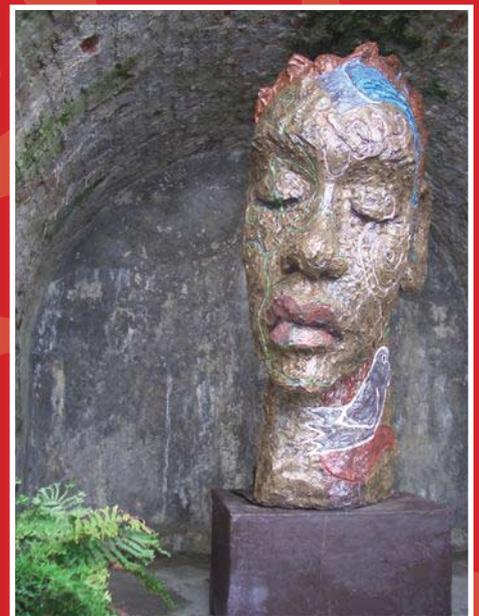

£10 panel discussion

£12.50 for both

Unwaged free

'The Dreamer', a sculpture by Bristol based sculptress Sophie Howard made for the Pierian Centre. The tall multicoloured female head, with closed eyes embodies the dreams of the Pierian Centre.

Booking:

As space is limited, it will be necessary to reserve a place as soon as possible by contacting Rose West,
Knowledge Exchange Officer on Tel: 0117 32 84372, or e-mail: rose.west@uwe.ac.uk